REPORTERS

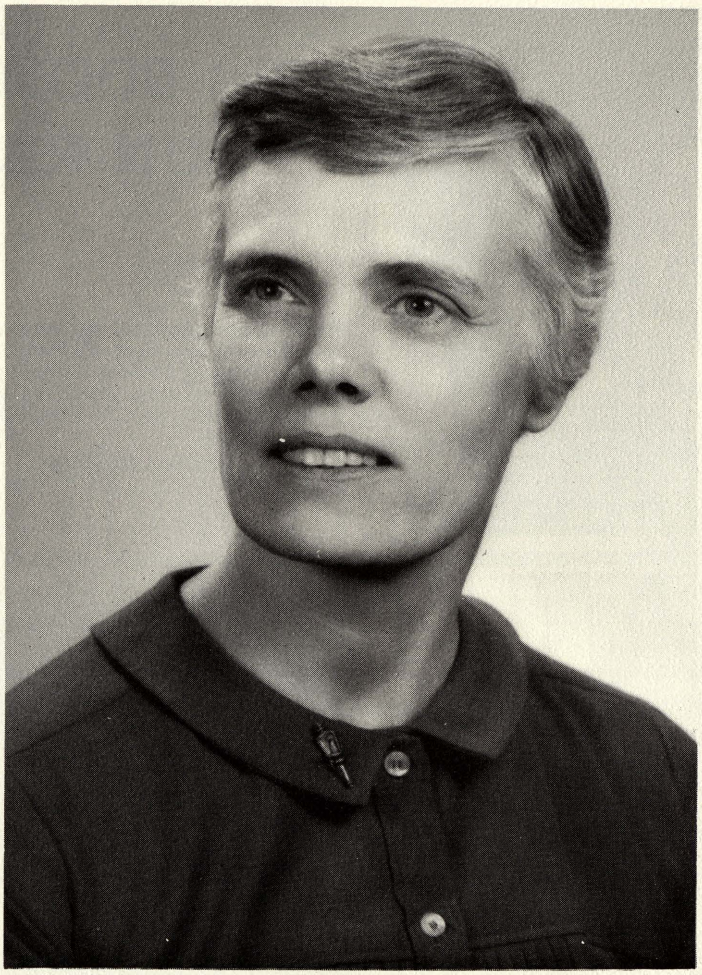
Janet Boice, Andrea Garwood,
David Hammock, David Mertz,
Martha Olney, Robert Plambeck,
Anne Stair, Marc Sudheimer



The staff is proud to dedicate this 1966 year book to Miss Evelyn Vassaw, teacher of Physical Education. Her nineteen years at South have added fourteen championship volleyball trophies to our school trophy case. In class as well as at practice Southern girls learned a championship attitude from a wonderful person, Miss Evelyn Vassaw.

Watching the clock to pass time? Hardly! The reporters, as well as the editors, don't have much time on their hands during the hectic time of putting together the yearbook. Sitting (left to right): Andrea Garwood, Janet Boice, Martha Olney, and Anne Stair. Standing: Dave Hammock, Marc Sudheimer, Robert Plambeck, and Dave Mertz.

"Too many cooks spoil the broth" cannot possibly apply to the two staffs combined, for although they all pitch in and talk at once, assignments are quickly accomplished.

FACULTY

WHAT IS YOUR RECORD FOR 1965-66?

Each year we receive many requests from employers, the armed services, and others asking for the school records of former students. Some have excellent records in scholarship, citizenship, and personality traits. Such a record helps them greatly in getting what they desire in life. Other pupils have very poor records in junior high school and thus are handicapped in securing good positions in life. Fortunately the great majority of South students have made a good record this school year. The combined efforts of all have helped South School maintain a fine tradition of high achievements and success in the activities and undertakings of the year.

Congratulations to the staff for the 1966 yearbook.

Best wishes to all for a pleasant vacation.

ACTIVITIES

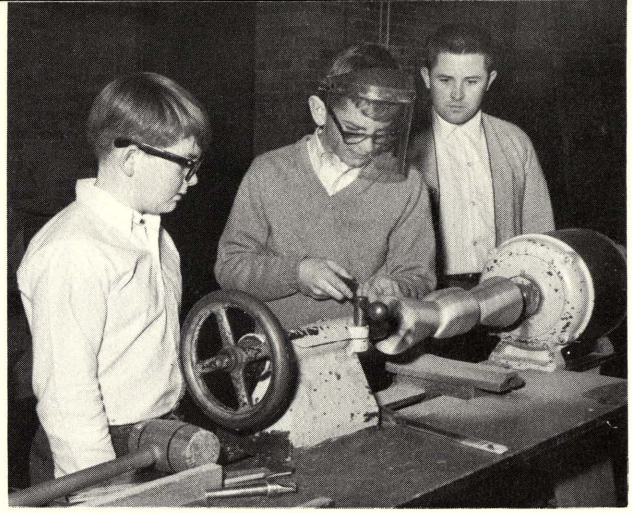
The clanking of typewriters fills the air as Mrs. Werth's fourth hour typing class whacks away at their finger exercises.



Rich Miller turns a lamp on the lathe in woodshop while Mr. Ulbricht and Randy Armstrong supervise.

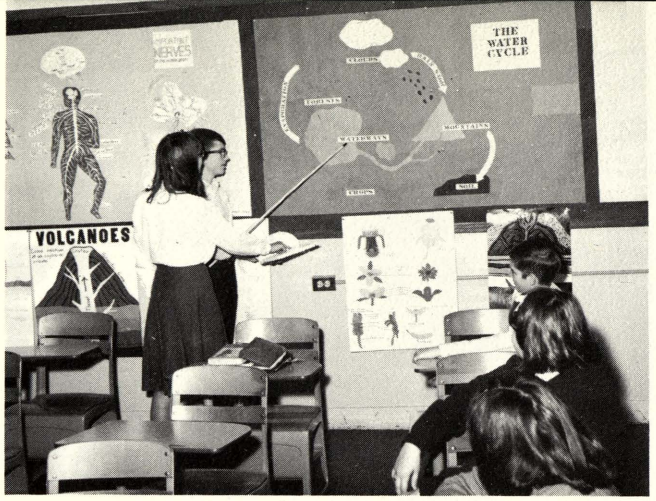
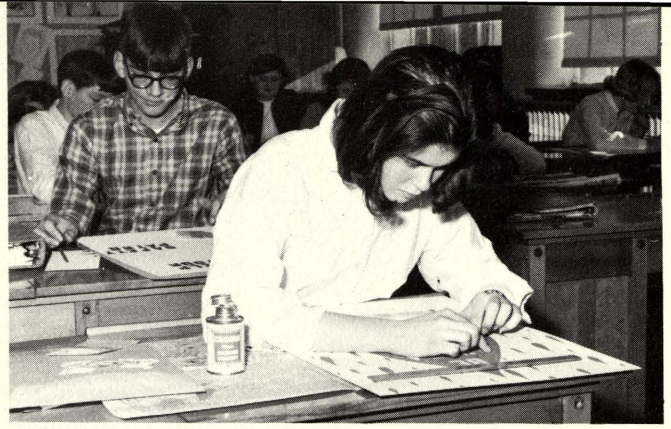
Pat O'Leary, Bill Astbury, Rex Wilson, Jay Schuett take proofs from type in printshop.

Rick Gardner and Mike Frick work happily at a draft in mechanical drawing.

Rattling the pots and pans in Miss Rosenberger's cooking class are Debby Galarno, Jean Smith, Terry Baker, and Janice Loubert.

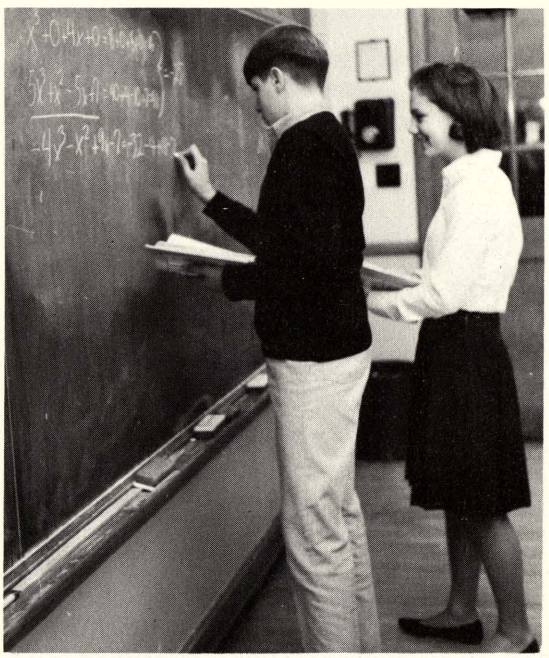


Richard Miller and Kim Holland show the steps of the water cycle in Mrs. Cumming's science class.



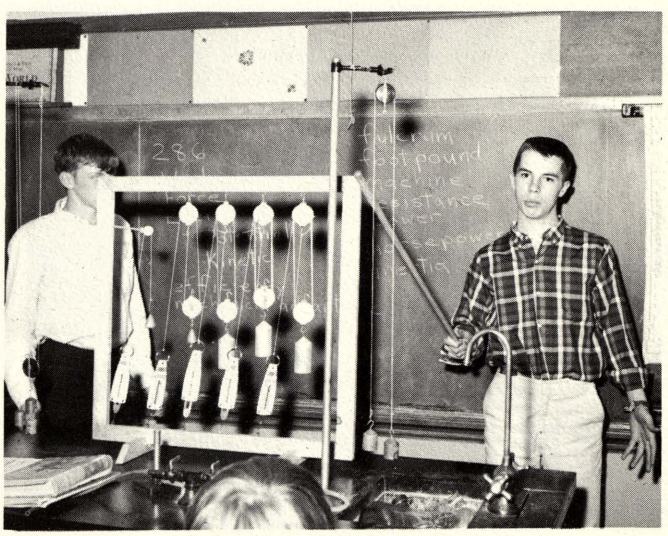
Ninth grade artist Merry Moore works hard at aligning a letter.

Gary Stahle, Mike Dengler, Sally Kreig, and Luann Melcher study a project explaining orbit in Mr. Shelly's class.

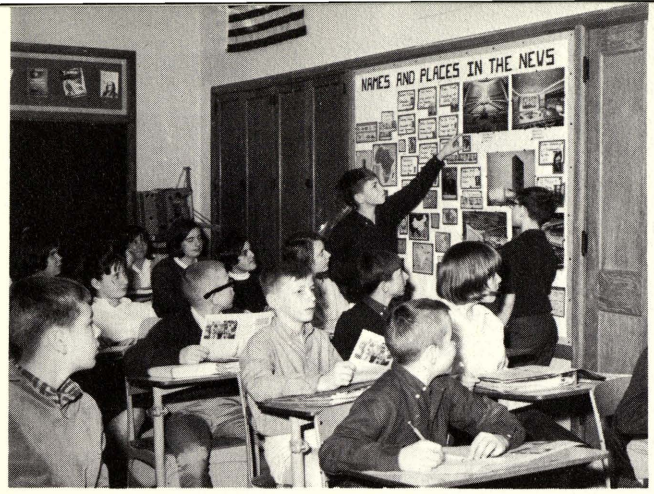


Working on an equation, John Malzahn and Debbie Borchard find the solution in Mr. Mosca's algebra class.

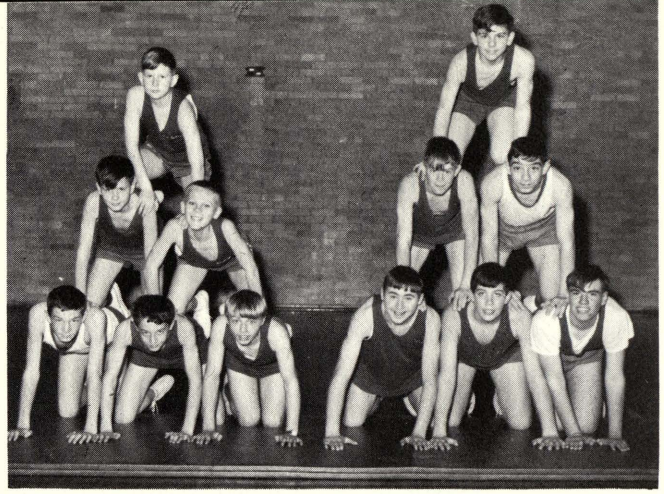
Tom Cottenham is busy taping his speech as Mrs. Riedle and Mr. Lonsway give directions.



Terry Braling and Roger Greenwood explain a science demonstration in Mr. McMurray's class.

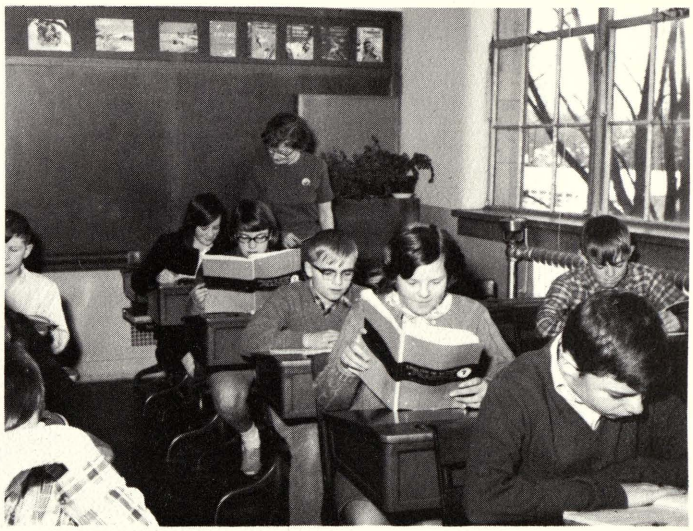


John Shook and Dick Gookin explain a bulletinboard in Miss Lange's 2nd hour social studies class.



Several members of fifth hour gym display their skill by forming pyramids.

Miss Vassaw's sixth hour girls show their agility for the cameraman.

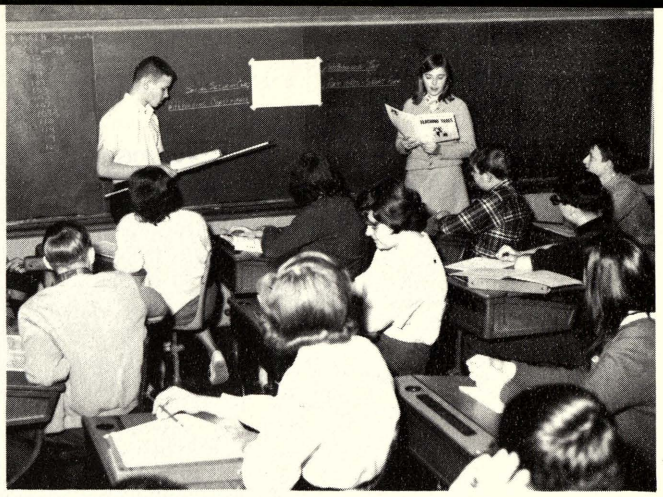


The diligent 7A-205's work away in Mrs. Eynon's 3rd hour English class.

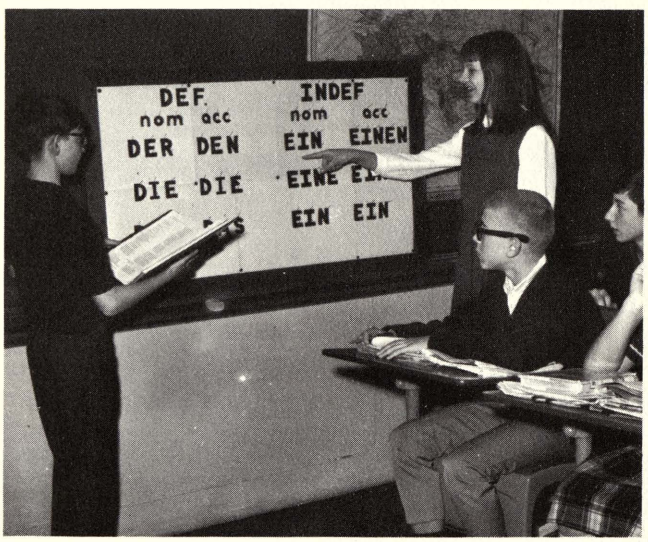
Dana Preston, Sue Pressprich, Rose Damore, and Jan Meacham sing do-re-mi for Miss Gase.

Kay Kaufman, Pat Rock, Debby Mills, and Sue Schroeder demonstrate communism in a skit in Mrs. Kreuger's third hour civics class.

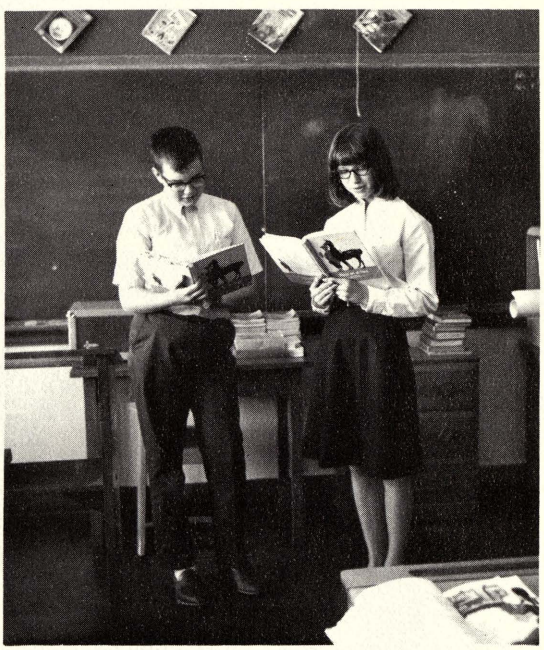
In Mrs. Kreuger's fourth hour Latin class Patty Ruhl calls on Dennis Dijak to recite.



Debby Galarno and Bob Butzin explain taxes in Mr. Little's math class.

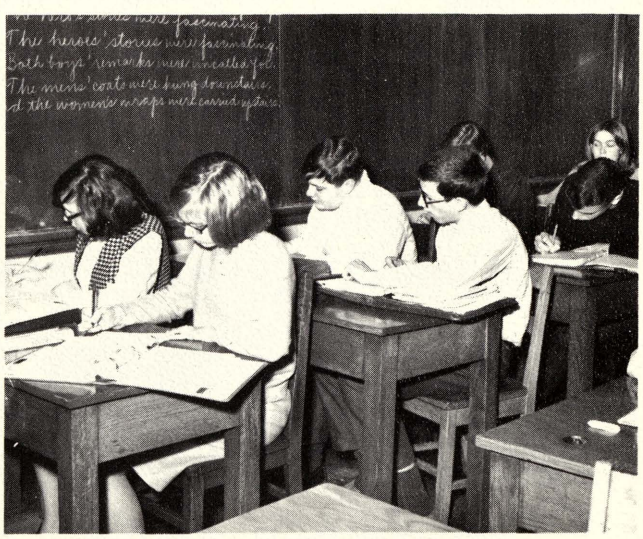


Dick Gookin and Marion Paul pronounce a word in Miss Mauch's third hour German class.



Stewart deGeus and Marcia Brake strive for correct pronunciation in Spanish class.

One of Mr. Eynon's auditorium classes dramatize a play.



In Miss Roethke's first hour English class the 106's are working quietly and diligently.

The play cast takes a hard earned break from rehearsal.

STUDENT STAFFS SUPPORT SOUTH

Books all sorted, files in order, a hard-working day is recognized as coming to a close by Mrs. St. John's efficient library staff. Back row (1. to r.): P. Shriver, J. Beffrey, K. Kaufman, N. Meyer, C. Anderson, K. Bloomfield, N. Kruth, H. Hargesheimer, J. Zahn, M. Hughes, J. Boyce, N. Pieschke, and P. Walch. Seated: M. Meyer, J. Fowler, J. Crawford, B. Tilot, D. Mann, and C. Sardstrom. No picture: Cheryl Deford.

Helping various organizations and having fun, South's "Y" Teens complete a successful year. Led by Debbie Krogman, President; Ann Tilot, Secretary; Maureen Golden, Vice President; Sue Sobel, Treasurer; and advisor Miss Mauch, the more than fifty member organization had fun while working for, and helping others.

Reporting to Headquarters every now and then, Miss Lange's Red Cross representatives are (back row-1. to r.): Marcy La Brake, Tom Rader, Charles Carter, and Gayle Fox.

Brilliant, cheerful, and helpful, these girls make up the office staff, working for both of South's Elementary and Intermediate offices. This year's smiling staff consists of: J. Hester, S. Donnenwerth, A. Lewis, J. Markey, M. Sedwick, P. Rock, J. Glass, M. Anderson, L. Tewes, C. Portner, S. Noble, and P. Ruhl.

Helping Mr. Eynon throughout the year, this stage crew--Dorothy Houser, Jerry Wagner, and Mickey Collison--help make all performances a success. Missing are Emil Rick and Rhoda Duncan.

At very odd and unusual times, any one of these boys may be called upon to assist a teacher with a projector, Mr. Shelley has given them the name of the Audio Visual Staff, which consists of, back row (1. to r.): T. Rader, M. Davis, W. Atsbury. Front row: S. Teeter, M. Kahn, and D. Kris.

"Spectacular" Year At South

The three fair ladies on the ladders--Phyllis Walch, Sara Noble, and Anita Lewis--exhibit their skill high in the air at the Southern Spectacular.

Accompanying herself on the guitar, South's "shy little eighth grader," Anne Stair, sings "Try to Remember."

Waiting for the landing from the "Geronimo" kid, Dave Vega and John Hagaman play well the part of the "aching-back" victims. Don Sheets, sparing no mercy, was usually the laugh of the show, as he messed up most of the stunts carried out by the boys.

Krista Nagel, one of the nine gymnasts on the beam balances precariously on the four-inch wide board.

The Sixteen Show Stoppers strive to kick sixteen pairs of feet in unison--a difficult feat but well-done by the smiling ninth grade girls.

Rose Damore puts forth concentration as she performs the splits on the balance beam.

Gloria Ortega, accompanied by Martha Olney, captivates the audience as she sings "Sweetheart Tree."

Mike Anderson, Chuck Wood, Bill Hatton, and Bob Wilhelm participate in their favorite past-time, "Standing on the Corner Watching All The Girls Go By . . . ."

The audience is treated to "92 voices blending in perfect harmony" as the school choir sings "Let Me Entertain You" and "If I Ruled The World."

One of the most traditional acts at the Southern Spectacular is the girls on the swinging ladders.

Music Makes the World Go 'Round

Music, the universal language, was expressed many ways by many people this year at South.

The girl's choir and also the mixed choir made musical contributions in assemblies, at P.T.A. meetings, the Spectacular and Spring Concert.

South's Madrigals, dressed in heather pink, presented their musical ability by singing in school, at hospitals, The League of Catholic Women's Home; Saginaw Geriatrics Home, the county dinner of Kings Daughters at St. Johns Episcopal Church, the Spectacular, Spring Concert, and 9A-assembly and banquet.

The "New Frontier," sung by the Folk Singers, delighted the audience of the Spring Concert.

Directed by Miss Mary Ellen Gase, these groups made 1965-1966 a musically wonderful year.

Miss Gase and Diane DeYoung look on as Martha Olney accompanies the 2nd hour choir.

The snap of a camera doesn't bother Don Bruggers and Bill McFerson as they practice in 3rd hour choir

SENIOR BAND

ORCHESTRA

The instrumental side of our music department was represented by the Senior Band, Junior Band and Orchestra.

What could be a better way to start off the musical year with a parade by the Senior Band on Veteran's Day? They also entertained the audiences of our P.T.A. meetings, the Spectacular, Spring Concert and a special exchange assembly.

The Junior Band furnished music during intermission for the school play.

The Orchestra strummed their way through the school year playing at the October P.T.A. open house, the Christmas program, the Spectacular, Spring Concert and a special exchange assembly.

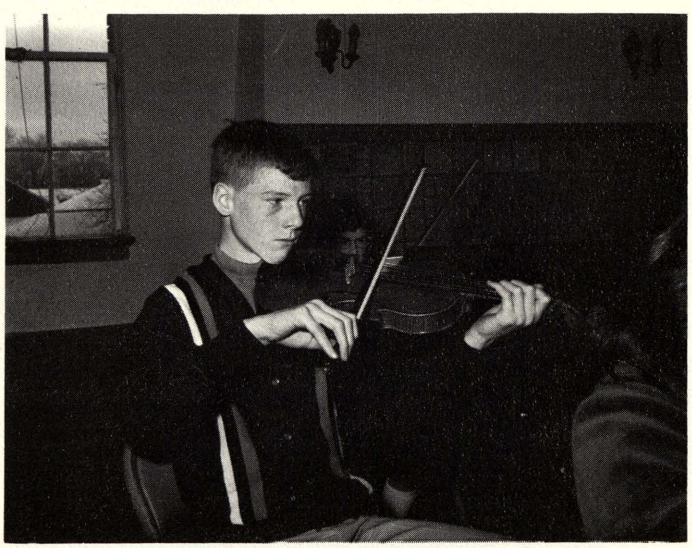
Gary Curtis and Dianna Vega put forth diligent concentration as they play their French horns.

Mr. Ergo directs the beginning orchestra.

Doug Schultz and Jay Newvins add a few notes in the beginning band.

Karen Steinke plays her violin.

Practice makes perfect for Virginia Seaman, Debra Pohlman, and Mark Kapka.



Jerome Fribley adds his skill to beginning orchestra.

Ninth Grade Co-Champs

The ninth grade tackle football team, under a new coach, Mr. Wright, compiled a 4-1-1 record to bring a co-championship to South. South had a fine running team behind Tim Novak, leading scorer and fullback; Jim Sherman, right halfback; and Joe Shields, left halfback. Mike Keaner quarterback completed the backfield. The linemen were the right arm of the backfield, for they, with desire and ruggedness, opened fine holes for the backfield.

South had the leading offense of the City Junior High League with an average of fourteen points a game. The defense was also outstanding, as they held their opponents to a meager average of six points a game.

Flagsters Display Talent

This year South's gallant 8th grade flag football team played a hard fought but unproductive season, losing their first game to Central, the only score being made on a passing play from Rich Miller to Steve Pococke.

The second game was a defensively hard fought 0 to 0 tie with Eddy, and the third was lost to North.

Next the juniors held Webber to a tie with Rich Miller pitching out to Glen Stewart for the only tally.

Then South got revenge for an earlier defeat by stomping Central. The only touchdown was made on a deadly aimed pass from Rich Miller to Steve Pococke (high scorer for the 8th grade).

Unfortunately the flagsters dropped the last game of the season to Eddy and the hard-hitting 8th graders ended the season with a 1-3-2 record.

1965-66--A SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR VOLLEYBALLERS

South's Volleyball team added another first place trophy to the front hall show case this year. Under the close direction of Miss Vassaw, this year's team had a record of thirteen wins and three losses. All the girls on the team will agree that the most exciting game was the second meeting with North. Defeated in the first game with the score 9-15 the Southerners were filled with determination and fought hard in the second game. Although this game was a loss also, the "Southern Spirit" of the girls never left them until the game was over with a score of 18-20. South's final game of the season was a crucial one, for at least one game had to be won or the co-championship would be shared with North. Central bagged the first game 15-13 but the Southerners came from a 14-8 deficit to win a hair-raising 16-14 victory. The girls again proved their determination and their right to the championship.

SENIORS COP TITLE

The vastly improved ninth grade team, behind leading scorers Tom Rousseau with 121 points and Mark Champagne with 101 points, came out of the season with an unblemished record of ten wins and no defeats. The closest any team came to defeating the champs was Arthur Eddy's 56-50 heartbreaking effort. The team's leading rebounders were Tom Rousseau and Gary Gerrish, with Rousseau tops on offense and Gerrish tops on defense. Frank Sigourney and Steve Kelly were also bright spots on the championship team. The lanky Sigourney scored a season's total of 85 points with fast breaking guard Kelly right behind him with 80 markers. Coach John McMurray deserves much credit for molding a former third-place ball club into the league champs. We salute this year's championship team.

JUNIORS IMPROVING

South's eighth graders started the season with a 36-29 triumph over Arthur Eddy. The juniors lost their next three games to Webber, North, and Central. They won their second contest against Eddy on a last second bucket by Dave Mertz. The score was 42 to 40. In the next games the juniors showed great improvement but couldn't buy a win. Their third victory was a 46-43 decision over Eddy on clutch freethrows by Dave Magill and Brain Molitor. The last two encounters were with Central and North. While South lost, they didn't give up without a fight.

Rich Miller was high scorer this year with 73 points, while Chuck Hammer brought down 69 rebounds.

SIS SNOOPER

School is over; it's gone at last
Summer is here; it'll be a blast!

Granny dresses are all the rage,
They're worn to dances and even on stage.

Our basketballers took the league by storm
They played their games in the best of form.

Batman and Robin are really top brass,
They make Wednesday and Thursday a real gas.

The Spectacular was really great.
Too bad there's always one year to wait.

Ninth graders made out their programs again this year,
As the time to go to Arthur Hill draws near.

The Y-a-Go-Go brought to us this year
Famous groups from far and near.

Gary Lewis and the Playboys were at the Den,
That's one group we're all ready to see again.

"Get Smart" is one show liked by all,
As Agent 86 has a ball.

James Bond is really groovy
In "Thunderball," his latest movie.

Here's an album we all dig,
The Beatles in "Rubber Sole" went over big.

Wendy and Tom are still a pair,
You see them walking everywhere.

"Barbara Ann" by the Beach Boys is a real cool disc,
For weeks it was at the top of the list.

Poor boy sweaters are really in style,
They will probably be in for quite a while.

"The Man From UNCLE" is seen each week,
It's a show that can't be beat.

The ticket sales were led by 9A-254
An all-time high of 977 per cent was their score.

Heather colors have made the scene,
With golds, blues, reds, and greens.

A new sports feature highlighted the city this year,
Competitive track and field came for us to cheer.

Here's some music that's really first class,
It's Herb Alpert and his Tijuana Brass.

Now we're out of space and rhyme,
So au revoir until next time.
